Oil-less compressors EKOM of the line KOMPAKT.5 and KOMPAKT.10 are the source of clean, pressed, oil-free air designed for driving of dental equipment and devices. With regard to their parameters and capacity of the air tank of 5 and 10 litres are suitable for supplying of one dental unit or devices in dental laboratories. Air produced by oil-free compressors provides a higher degree of hygiene and quality of work of the dentist and does not pollute the working environment by heterogeneous substances.

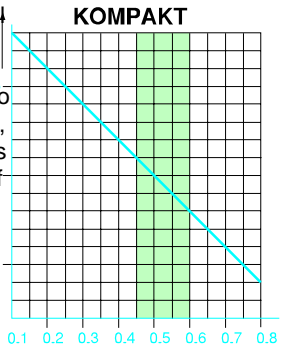

Compressors are produced in following variants:

- Integral for fitting into dental units or other devices
- Stabil with fixed base for individual installation in arbitrary space
- Silent in compact cabinets with effective reduction of noise, by its design suitable for placing in surgeries

The compressors of variant Stabil may work in continuous operation, the compressors of variants Integral and Silent may work in intermittent operation.

It is possible to use these devices also in other areas of medical services, and in every condition where its features meet the requirements. All of these compressors can be completed according to customer's wish, with the next equipments for:

- filtration
- condensing unit
- dryer
